
Critical Literary Studies
Vol. VIII, No. 2, Serial Number 16, October 2026

The Coexistence of Contrasting Forces: An Analysis of Selected Poetry of William Carlos Williams through Chaos Theory	1-18
• Mohammad Reza Esfandiari Mehr, Ali Taghizadeh
Trauma and Power: A Caruthian–Foucauldian Reading of Jelinek’s Wonderful, Wonderful Times	19-37
• Maryam Soltan Beyad, Mahshid Mirmasoomi
Existential Death and (In)authenticity in Beckett’s Molloy: A Yalomian Reading	39-57
• Samaneh Zandi, Zahra Jannessari Ladani
Object’s Time: Temporal Antagonism in Tennessee Williams’s Sweet Bird of Youth	59-74
• Seyyed Mohammad Marandi, Zohreh Ramin, Maryam Moradi
Resisting and Empowering as a Result of Hybridized Identity Formation in Imbolo Mbue’s How Beautiful We Were	75-90
• Hoda Shabrang, Zhaleh Laeli
Moral-Educational Teachings and the Issue of Cognitive and Emotional Standards in Children’s Poetry: The Case Study of Latif Halimat’s Children Poems	91-113
• Fardin Hosseinpanahi, Arash Mehraban
Decoding Alienation: Semiotics and Consumerist Modernity in Paul Auster’s City of Glass	115-131
• Marzieh Zibaei, Abdolreza Goudarzi, Shahram Afroughch
The Dialectics of Enlightenment and Its Discontents	133-148
• Nawzad Jamal Hamafaraj
Mapping Unstable Selves: Existential Ontology and Narrative Multiplicity in As I Lay Dying	149-165
• Sajed Hosseini, Sheereen Ahmadpour
Hybrid Lives, Wounded Minds: An Exploration of Trauma of Dislocation in Fadia Faqir’s Diaspora Novel, The Cry of the Dove	167-180
• Zahra Ghasemi
Translation of Slanguage Items: The Case Study of The Catcher in the Rye	181-197
• Maryam Ghodrati, Shoja Neynava, Anahita Amirshojai
Translation Agents and Networks: A Case Study of the Persian Translations of Bakhtiar Ali’s Novels in Iran	199-232
• Milad Miraki, Ahmad Moinzadeh, Saeed Ketabi
Abstracts in Persian	233-244
